

URPE at SEA Program

November 19 – 21, 2016

Second Annual URPE@SEA Conference
2016, J.W. Marriott, Washington DC

Saturday

1:00 - 2:45 pm [1.C.15] Salon F

Post Keynesian Modeling of the Economy with an Emphasis on Minsky and Kregel

Session Chair:
JOHN KOMLOS, University of Munich

Papers:

"Modeling Non-Equilibrium, Non-Linear Economic Systems: A Research Methodology Note"
STEVE BANNISTER, University of Utah

"Analyzing the 'New' Inflation Targeting Framework for Developing Economies Through a Minsky-Kregel Perspective"
DEVIN RAFFERTY, St. Peter's University

Discussion among participants and audience

URPE Cocktail Reception
Saturday 6pm-8pm
Penn Avenue Terrace in the JW Marriott

All conference attendees welcome to join us

URPE at SEA Program

Sunday

8:00 - 9:45 am [2.A.15] Salon F

Topics in Heterodox Theories of Income and Wealth Distribution

Session Chair:

SCOTT CARTER, University of Tulsa

Papers:

"Income Distribution, Economic Growth and the Race to the Bottom in Developing Countries "

TANADEJ VECHSURUCK, University of Utah

"Accumulation at 'Super' Wealth Levels: Evidence from U.S. Administrative Data"

RISHABH KUMAR, New School for Social Research

"How Geithner and Bernanke Joined the Ranks of the Millionaires"

JOHN KOMLOS, University of Munich

"Transformation of American Democracy: Business Interest Policy Planning"

JOSEPH BALLEGEER, University of Missouri–Kansas City

Discussion among participants and audience

Sunday 10:00 - 11:45 am [2.B.15] Salon F

Topics in Heterodox Theories of Development

Session Chair:

DEVIN RAFFERTY, St. Peter’s University

Papers:

"The Role of Appropriate Technology in Sustainable Development"

YIJIANG HUANG, University of Missouri–Kansas City

URPE at SEA Program

"Governing Common Waters: The Political Economy of Fisheries and the Growth of Aquaculture in Uganda"

KARIN WEDIG, University of Denver

"Marx and Worker's Cooperative Firms"

HEE-YOUNG SHIN, Wright State University

Discussion among participants and audience

Sunday 2:00 - 3:45 pm [2.J.15] Salon F

Heterodox Theories of Growth and Distribution

Session Chair:

MARIE DUGGAN, Keene State College

Papers:

"Modeling Patterns of Technical Change and De-Industrialization"

LUIS VILLANUEVA, Denison University

XIAO JIANG, Denison University

"Functional and Size Distribution Within a Sraffian Context"

SCOTT CARTER, University of Tulsa

Discussion among participants and audience

Sunday 4:00 - 5:45 pm [2.K.15] Salon F

Themes in Sraffian Economics

Session Chair:

STEVE BANNISTER, University of Utah

Papers:

"On the Digital Arrangement of Sraffa's Archival Notes on Production of Commodities by Means of Commodities"

SCOTT CARTER, University of Tulsa

URPE at SEA Program

"Rediscovering the Burchardt-Lowe Model and its Contributions Toward Structural Economic Dynamics"

MICHAEL MURRAY, Bemidji State University

Discussion among participants and audience

Monday

Monday 8:00 - 9:45 am [3.A.15] Salon F

Topics in Heterodox Economics

Session Chair:

SCOTT CARTER, University of Tulsa

Papers:

"A Risk Analysis of Disaster Loss"

LOPAMUDRA BANERJEE, New School for Social Research

"Modeling Non-Equilibrium, Non-Linear Economic Systems: A Research Methodology Note"

STEVE BANNISTER, University of Utah

Discussion among participants and audience

Monday 10:00 - 11:45 am [3.B.15] Salon F

Themes and Issues in Labor and Labor Unions

Session Chair:

SCOTT CARTER, University of Tulsa

Papers:

"Examining Work Stoppages in a Modified Goodwin Business Cycle Model"

TAZEWELL HURST, International Association of Machinists

URPE at SEA Program

"Pensions and Acquisitions: Two Case Studies from the Northeast"

MARIE DUGGAN, Keene State College

"Examining How Work-Life Cooperation Influences Organizational Sustainability in a Unionized Environment"

GREGORY MURRAY, William W. Winpisinger Education & Technology Center

Discussion among participants and audience

Monday 1:00 - 2:45 pm [3.C.15] Salon F

The Political Economy of Race

Session Chair:

TAZEWELL HURST, International Association of Machinists

Papers:

"The Impact of Historical Injustice on Contemporary Voter Turnout Among Blacks"

JHACOVA WILLIAMS, Louisiana State University

"Wherein Lies the Fertile Ground for Racial Equality? An Analysis of the Spatial Relationship between Inequality, Segregation, and Racial Wealth Disparities"

JOHAN ANDRES URIBE, Denison University

"Revisiting Bergmann's Occupational Crowding Model"

MICHELLE HOLDER, John Jay College of Criminal Justice

"Revising the Racial Wage Gap: The Impact of Mass Incarceration"

JEANETTE WICKS-LIM, Political Economy Research Institute (PERI)

Discussants:

NANCY BREEN, National Institute of Health

URPE at SEA Program

Upcoming URPE events: URPE Brooklyn Conference

Left-Wing Economics in a Right- Wing Political Climate

April 8, 2017

St. Francis College, Brooklyn NY

The Conference will bring together the theoretical perspectives provided by of radical political economics and the organizational experiences of those engaged in struggle on the many crucial issues confronting us today. It will, we hope, contribute to the development of an agenda that can guide all of us in the difficult years ahead. We invite proposals for panels or individual presentations that could accomplish this goal.

Proposals should be sent to: urpe@urpe.org

New URPE Initiative: Online Teaching Workshops

Dear Colleagues,

URPE is pleased to announce a new initiative: online teaching workshops. These are based on the very successful workshops that have been conducted at ASSA meetings and at various universities around the United States.

The first online teaching workshop, on Constructing a Teaching Philosophy and Portfolio, is now available for all URPE members (with a current and activated online account). (If you have trouble logging in, please email Frances at urpe@urpe.org.) The workshop is designed to help graduate students and younger scholars prepare materials that could be used effectively in applying for a job (or preparing for a review) at a teaching oriented institution.

If this first workshop is successful, we plan to develop and add additional workshops on syllabus and course design, active learning, collaborative learning, models of pluralistic teaching, and more. Please let me know if you have any questions.

In solidarity,

Geoff Schneider

Geoff.Schneider@Bucknell.edu

Professor of Economics, Bucknell University

URPE Steering Committee Member

AFEE President-Elect

ICAPE Acting Executive Director